

What Is T-Bug?

T-Bug is a not for profit organisation working towards building a strong cycling community whilst increasing cycle awareness and safety in and around the Tamar region.

What Does T-Bug Do?

Our activities range from organising social rides and bike maintenance workshops to participating in local government decisions regarding cycling infrastructure and lobbying at state and federal levels.

With T-Bug, you can:

-  Participate in social rides and events.
-  Encourage new cyclists.
-  Participate in working bees.
-  Provide cyclist and driver education.
-  Promote the benefits of cycling for both cyclists and the broader community.
-  Help to improve cycling facilities (bikeways, routes, lockers, rails, reduced hazards, etc.) and increase cycle use.
-  Promote a cycling ethic in the general community and raise awareness of cyclists amongst other road users.

How Can You Join?

You can become a T-Bug member at any time by visiting www.tbug.org.au or a T-Bug event and filling out a membership form.

T-Bug offers two types of membership:

Associate membership with no fees give access to mailing lists, discussion forums and website content.

Full membership with discount membership fees for families and concession card holders, providing access to T-Bug member benefits including insurance coverage on T-Bug rides, invitation to events and discounts from local businesses.

How Can You Help?

T-Bug is always looking for enthusiastic people to help organise rides and events and take part in addressing local cycling issues. For more information, visit our website at www.tbug.org.au.

You can also help just by riding. The increasing number of cyclists on roads and tracks has helped raise awareness and make cycling safer for all of us.
